Golfers set for opener

Sophomore golfer Richard Guill will probably be the nucleus of this season's Appomattox High School golf team, according to first-year coach Coty Dickerson.

Guill is one of four returning players from last year and six players who turned out for the team this year.

With Guill returning are Tim Tolley, Ernie Chenault, and Steve Mayberry, who join newcomers John Simmons and Mike Smith, who is a freshman.

"We haven't really had enough practice time for me to make any predictions on this season's prospects," according to Dickerson.

"But if we get a break on the weather, I think we have the talent to have a pretty good team by the end of the year," he added.

Dickerson says his "good group of young men" is tentatively scheduled to play a match each Tuesday through the season. Included in this schedule are three non-district matches, as well as matches with each team in the Seminole District.

The first match is scheduled for March 18 against Altavista at the Falling River Country Club. Tee-off time is 3:30 p.m.

Eight turn out for tennis

Eight players, including returnees Andrew Fratrick and Eddie Agee, have turned out to practice for this year's boys' tennis team, according to coach John Pettyjohn.

"They're still challenging now for position," Pettyjohn said early this week. "It's a young team," the coach added.

With Agee and Fratrick on this year's tennis team are, Robert Hubbard, Tim Franklin, John Caldwell, Ned Jennings, James Beaty and Bobby Stanley.

Pettyjohn, who is coaching tennis this year for the first time, says he is not sure yet what to expect this season.

"We haven't had much chance to practice, what with the weather, and having to split the courts with the girls' team."

Pettyjohn adds that he is not sure what the other teams the Raiders will face have this season.

The team will play its first match March 26, according to the coach. There are 16 games scheduled for the Raiders this season.

Jayvees set to embark on first season

Thirty boys turned out for the first year of junior varsity baseball, according to coach John Justus.

Justus says there are about 25 players still poractieing, and the squad will probably be cut back to 20 or 22.

"They've looked pretty good so far," says Justus. "I think we have some pretty good talent out there."

Justus said pitchers expected to see action this season include Greg Mayberry, Donny Hudson, Tim Bennett, Mike Wilkins, Jody Williams and M. J. House.

The coach also said he expects a lot out of Mark Kelso, as well as Mike Ranson. Glen Cheatham and Ricky Mayberry.

Other players Justus said he expects to depend on are Rodney Bryant, Kevin Ferguson, Allen Edmonds, Jay Stewart, Bobby Wingfield, Norman Turner, Gary Ferguson, Ken Caldwell, Jim Hix and Doug Powell.

"We also have three eighth-graders, Jay Chenault, Jay Wingfield, and Richard Connor, who have been looking pretty good," according to the coach.

The team, which has 16 games lined up for this, its first season, will scrimmage today (Thursday) at Powhatan.

The first regular season game is scheduled for March 18 at Crewe. Game time is 3:30 p.m.

Smith named to all-state team

Longwood Senior Mary-Jane Smith (Pamplin) was one of 10 players selected to the 1980 VAIAW Division II All-State team. The 5-10 forward has accumulated 1,154 career points at Longwood and is only the second player in the school's history to score more than 1,000 career points.

Smith averaged 18.1 points and 8.5 rebounds per game this season. Her season high score was 32 points against University of North Carolina - Greensboro.

She has also maintained a .730 free throw average this season and had 41 steals.

During the Division II tournament action, Smith was unable to see much time on the court because she was suffering from the flu.

Despite her illness, Smith had nine points and nine rebounds in the Lancer's first round game against Hampton Institute. The Lancers took a narrow 53-51 victory February 28 to propell them into the semi-finals.

Freshman Cindy Eckel (South Plainfield, New Jersey) showed leadership in the forward position in Smith's absense with 12 points. Junior guard Brenda Fettow (Indian Harbour Beach, Florida) had 10 points.

On Friday, fifth seed Longwood met top seed and eventual state champion the Radford Lady Highlanders. The Lancers took a 66-55 defeat after a close first half. Longwood leaped to an early lead in the first half, but the Radford Highlanders battled back for a 31-31 deadlock at halftime.

In the second half, the Highlanders took the lead for good sinking 18 of 22 shots from the line which handed them the game.

Eckel again took scoring honors for the Lancers with 13 points.

Longwood was then left to vie for third place with third seed William and Mary. The Lancers never really got into the game falling to the Indians 78-49. The Indians led by a 16 point spread at the half and never lost control of the ball game.

Sophomore center Robin Hungate (Vinton) and senior forward Kitty Hughes (Annandale) came off the bench to lead the Lancer scoring against the Indians. Hungate had 16 points, while Hughes had 11 points and 10 rebounds.

Radford went on to defeat second seed VCU in overtime to clinch first place. George Mason took fifth place with a win over Hampton Institute, who finished sixth.

The Lancers finished the season with an 11-19 overall record and a 3-4 conference record.
